To the Autodesk team,

My name is Alexandria Alcancia-Shaw, and I am a soon-to-be graduate of Computation Arts and Computer Science at Concordia University. I studied Commerce during my time in CEGEP, and with all of these combined skills I feel I will be a great addition to your current team.

On the technical side, I've worked on a variety of graphic design projects, including several long (50+ slide) presentations with custom graphics and material for PhD Candidates and Professors. I've been the arbiter of perfection and created a unified and most importantly consistent vision across the board in each of these presentations.

Second, I've been running a social media (instagram) account for the past year in my spare time called HiyaKerrii, with a focus on rare plants. I've also got experience coding in doing front-end work in Javascript from my significant time spent playing around in my favourite sandbox (the web).

To finish up, I'm really thrilled to even be considered to join your team. My current portfolio may be seen at alcanciashaw.com. I'd love to meet you to discuss the job in detail.

Sincerely,
Alexandria Alcancia-Shaw
